Transitional Justice for New Wars: Colombia and Beyond

Elvira Maria Restrepo, PhD

Dr. Restrepo holds a JD equivalent from Universidad de los Andes (Colombia), an LLM from Harvard University Law School and a Doctorate in Politics from Oxford University. Her current research interests include comparative studies in justice, crime and conflict. From 2003-2007, she was an Assistant Professor in the Economics Department at the Universidad de los Andes where she taught courses on the interplay between crime and conflict. She was a member of CEDE (Universidad de los Andes) and Fedesarrollo (the economic think-tank), where she worked mainly in topics related to crime, terrorism, criminal justice and conflict. Dr. Restrepo currently teaches in the Department of International Studies at the University of Miami.
